NOR'WESTER

STAFF ADVISORS

Staff advisors have played a big role in getting the Nor'wester ready each year. The staff advisor is the person really in charge of putting the yearbook together. They have certain deadlines they must meet, and they usually do, but there is an exception every now and then. They are very understanding, and would go a mile out of their way just to make sure that your yearbook arrives on time. Staff advisors are very helpful in telling the editor what he thinks is best to go where. They always seem to come up with a new and better way to produce your yearbook. And finally I would like to say, they are very smart and friendly people. This year Northwestern is paying tribute to three of our staff advisors, Mrs. Mulholland, Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Fraser.

YEARBOOK ADVERTISING

Mr. Walker and Mr. Werner are in charge of yearbook advertising. Each year the students of BMK 341 go out and sell ads to stores and companies in the Stratford area. Last year they sold over $1700.00 in advertisements, which cuts the cost of the Nor'wester down to the students.

LAYOUT AND DESIGN

All of the layout and design of your yearbook was done right here in the Graphic Arts room. People on the yearbook committee and people in TGA 341-441 did the layout and design. They worked long hours in getting the yearbook ready. It was these people who with a lot of help from Mr. Fraser, got the yearbook ready for the press.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

There is an old saying that goes something like this: "School days are the best days of your life." The Yearbook staff just hopes that the '75 Nor'Wester will help you realize this in your years to come.

The purpose of a yearbook is to provide students with a permanent written and pictorial record of happenings at Northwestern during their school years.

Many enjoyable work meetings were filled with the activities connected with the yearbook. The work involves layout and design, typing up of material, proofreading and paste-up. It takes a nucleus of interested students to produce a successful edition.

The people to whom we direct our very sincere thanks for this edition are: Mr. Fraser for guiding us through each stage of the development of the yearbook, Mr. Werner who headed yearbook sales, Mr. Walker, advertising and Mrs.

Francom, typing. Thanks to the teachers and office staff who gave us the co-operation that we needed, to the class representatives and the students who made it financially possible for us to edit this issue.

Even though it would be impossible to list the names of everyone involved, I would be remiss in not saying a sincere thank-you to everyone who helped in any way.

We hope that the '75 Nor'wester will bring the best of memories of those unforgettable school days in years to come.

YOUR '75 NOR'WESTER EDITOR

ADVERTISEMENT AROUND THE SCHOOL

This year a lot of work was done to promote yearbook sales around the school. People in Graphic Arts were busy printing up two posters, while people on the yearbook committee made up some three sided boxes and hung them in the cafeteria. The two posters that were made were distributed around the school. A calendar was also made and each home-room teacher received one to hand in his or her room for promotion of the yearbook. I do think the people who worked on these projects worked very hard and deserve some credit for a job well-done.

Once upon a time long ago there was a man called Papa Blowes who had 19 children. They were all fairly close in age so he was a very busy man. Little did he know that their future was in his hands. Boy, were they in trouble; when he got happy he couldn't even read the signs on 'certain' doors. Each child was different in their own way. Little Rondell wanted to be a bookie on ice. Nobby was Northwestern's answer to the Big Mac. Marg was the lover of the family while Warren was voted in as a close second Rick, the baby of the family was Northwestern's Fonzie. Brian was the mischievous one, always having his hands in the wrong places at the wrong times. Mary was a real swinger—with a sledgehammer. Jeff and Vaughn played a lot of hookie, coming to school only part of the day. Connie was the adopted child from the other side of the river. Wayne was the troublemaker, when he wasn't working at his two jobs. Brenda and Dianne liked doing, some things together—both were the presidents of the ME Club at the same time. Pat was going to start his own insurance company, since no one else would take the risk. Mary Lou was quiet on the outside but—wild on the inside. Bob was the sole supporter of the Montreal team. Mary Anne might have taken up acting as she loved playing a salon girl in a play. Mike probably would have been a bus driver as he made frequent trips to the front of the N. S. bus. Tony had goals of becoming a mathematician as he had his calculator posed ready to go all the time.

Among the family who weren't mentioned were the many Aunts and Uncles. Uncle Kenny and Aunt Marilyn were planning on leaving the family temporarily, but Uncle Brian, Uncle Billy, Uncle Ronny, Uncle Joe, Uncle Johnny, Uncle Brucie, Uncle Ed, Aunt Kathy, Aunt Janie and Aunt Barb were all planning on staying with the Family waving the iron stick were Grandpa Pete and Grandpa Dave keeping everyone in line.

All, or at least most, of the children were planning to run away from their pleasant home. Some were going to university or college, others were going to work, and some didn't know. But all had plans to return some day to their happy home.

VISIONS OF A NEW HORIZON

As I sit on the shore I reason only one main and simple conclusion
I compare myself to a tiny water particle and understand its life cycle.

A constant rumbling of turnovers and rushes
Rippling, oozing, gushing, singing, laughing
And always, I seem to move onto new and challenging courses
Let it be fast or slow, happy or sad
I'm frightened of never seeing the same thing or another particle alike

But forces keep pushing to eternal restlessness
Experiencing evaporation until I'm finally invisible,
Condensation, till I'm born in moisture again
The pouring out from that heavenly cloud filled sky.
And touching new friends in a downfall; all who are just as experienced

I realize now, how simplified my life is.
Again I compare myself to another natural experience
I am a Flame.

Born to the wood by frictioned sparks, I want to grow.
But there are frequent occasions when I'm rejected
Rejected by other forces,

Whether it be wind, the rains or a simple breath,
I will try again, until I fulfill my purpose,
And live until I've reached my high

When I'm alive and feel secure, I'm ready to grow
I'm yearning to be higher and stronger.

Finally, I reach my brightest climax...I may fall and rise again,
But while screaming and sparking for life,

I can think of nothing but my greed for more wood
So I can endure in its interior and feed on the satisfaction of pattern forming edges amid exteriors of freedom

I will feel my age only if I'm careless or have not been cared for
And slowly I'll retire and embed in hot coals
My final spark will abruptly vanish,
But will never die.

It is hard to imagine that in 25 years, in the year 1999 you will probably wander back through the dusty pages of this book.

You'll find you have grown a little older, a little heavier and a little wiser.

As you turn the pages, you'll remember some of the names, few of the faces and all of the good times from the year 1974.

And that is the way it should be. . .

STUDENTS:

We think you will appreciate that you are living in one of the most beautiful cities in Canada. With its cultural activities and sporting and recreational facilities, Stratford is a most pleasant place to live.

In order to keep Stratford growing, it is necessary to have new industries as well as healthy existing ones. Your attitude toward your city is important. New industries like to locate where the citizens are proud of their City.

Your enthusiastic support of Stratford as a place to live will encourage industrial growth — and further your own future.

Stratford City Council.

mental-Health

The Canadian Mental Health Association

- 1 Anyone can have mental and emotional problems.
- 2 Something can be done about them. Talk it over with someone who knows you.
- 3 If he can't help there are others — psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers — who can help troubled people. There now is a psychiatric clinic at the Stratford Hospital.
- 4 There is nothing wrong with needing or getting such help. Your family doctor can refer you for psychiatric consultation.
- 5 The earlier you go for help, the better it is.
